Tomato Soup

- Leek
- Tomato

Firstly take your fresh tomato and puree it in a light blue stainless-steel blender until it resembles a fine paste. Transfer said paste into a large cauldron of your choosing and add a fresh whole leek and season to taste. Let this simmer until the consistency homogenizes and the colour seems appetizing. Serve this mixture on a plate and enjoy!

Bun

The most saturating meal of them all. Best enjoyed with a tomato soup.

- Bag of Flour

Start by processing your flour in a food processor. Don't mind the bag, it will be shredded into unnoticable pieces. Once the dough has a workable consistency take it out of the food processor and put it in the oven until baked. When you take out the loaf, wait for it to cool down, then slice it on a cutting board.

Burger

A rich meal featuring healthy vegetables, bread and a perfectly cooked steak.

- Lettuce
- Tomato
- Cheese
- Raw Steak
- Bun

Cut the steak on a cutting board until it becomes a nice round burger patty. Put the patty in a pan and let it cook on medium heat for two minutes. In the meantime, start preparing the vegetables on a cutting board by slicing them into a single slice each. Cut the bun into two halves on a cutting board. When the patty is done, assemble it together with the vegetables and the bun halves on a plate for serving. Et Voilà.

The burger can be prepared in multiple variations, e.g. without cheese or as a Veggie-Burger.
